

Sponsoring Hack.lu 2016!

The 12th edition of Hack.lu will take place on October 18-20, 2016, at Parc Hotel Alvisse in Luxembourg. Last year's attendance reached a pick with more than 400 world-class security professionals from around 40 different countries. Hack.lu is one of the oldest and largest conferences in Europe on Information Security, which has become in a few years an internationally renowned convention.

The purpose hack.lu is to give an open and free playground where people can discuss the implication of new technologies in society. It is a balanced mix convention where technical and non-technical people can meet and share freely all kind of information. The most significant new discoveries about computer network attacks and defenses, commercial security solutions, and pragmatic real world security experience will be presented in a three days series of informative tutorials.
